R.A.F.'S FIRST CROIX DE GUERRE.

General Vuillemin, Commander of the French Air-Force, greets Air Marshal Barratt, Air Officer in Chief, of the British Air Forces in France..... The occasion is the presentation of decorations, to a number of air heroes, including one British Officer.

First the Accolade. After which, each receives his award, ranging from the insignia of "Grand Officer of the Legion of Honour" downwards. Flight Lieutenant Jeff, is the first British Airman to receive the Croix de Guerre. He attacked two German bombers, and, after a stiff battle, shot down one, and put the other to flight. Well done!
