ICE BREAKING IN HOLLAND.

When a Dutch Skipper is ordered to -- BREAK IT UP THERE -- BREAK IT UP -- this is just how he does it.

The Inland-waters of Holland are frozen over, and there's enough ice here to keep any American going for at least a week¹

The winter has been particularly severe, in the Netherlands.

And the depth of ice in the Zuyder Zee has broken all records.

Now this is the ship, that ^{breaks} ~~breaks~~ the ice, that broke the record..

but its no easy job. There are young icebergs about.

So ends a strenuous day.
