LADIES IN THE SADDLE

It's Ladies Day at the races with thirteen of America's best feminine jockeys weighing in. Rodeo riders, block busters, steeplechasers and movie stunt girls are among the entrants that step on the scales. A few of the girls own the mounts they will ride in the big race for the Town Plate. There they go and Brady Girl ridden by Jay Caprice who bought home the winner last year sets the pace as they head along the back stretch. Coming into the final turn of the six furlong event it's anybodies race. No novices on horseback are these girls. As they swing into the stretch junior and sister are rooting for mamma to bring home the winner. In the final drive Crowd Door is flying out in front, Annerly Willy, Idaho ranch girl and wife of a racehorse owner rides Crowd Door to victory drawing away.
