

DARING DEATH FOR A LIVING.

Thousands pack the Coliseum Stadium at Los Angeles to see men crash their way to fame.

That's his way of having fun.... and raking in the money.
If you think he's hurt... . you're wrong. He's as pleased and ~~xpanda~~ proud as a sandboy.

That isn't his only trick, he's got a whole handful of crazy death defying trump cards. Here's a hot one.

The driver just sits back and smiles.... and says.....

How am I doing folks?

And the next one is a parlour trick with a brick wall.

But this time something does go wrong.

See the driver try to come out, then fall back in his seat.

People jump out of the stands and rush forward to help.

Another driver hurries round the track so fast he fails to pull up in time.

These are the men who earn their living the hard way....

Its good while it lasts, but they never ask "how long"
