UNDER SEALED ORDERS.

They let go the mooring cables in New York Harbour.....
And the Queen Mary puts to sea. Nobody knows where she's heading....but there's a report from New York that her first stop will be the British Naval Station at Bermuda..... to be armed against Submarine attack.

Some people thought the Queen Mary was laid up for the duration..... some of them even suggested we were afraid of losing her.
Now they know.....that in war as in peace....with or without the permission of Hitler's Navy.....we sail our ships just when and where we want to.
