

START 'EM YOUNG

The ancient game of golf is really child's play.

At least it is for Bobby Dawson Junior, who learnt it in the nursery at his Daddy's knee.

Daddy is pro at the Laurel-in-the-Pines Course in New Jersey, Jersey. And Bobby can lay one right down the centre, for a hundred and fifteen yards.

S'easy. Sometimes he gets into the sand. But that's no mental hazard for a kid who's too young even for a proper golfing vocabulary. Anyway....Daddy thinks he's the best baby in the world.
