

PARASHOTS ENROL.

War Minister Mr. Anthony Eden, broadcast an appeal for the new Defence Volunteer Corps to combat the latest danger from the air. This pre war picture shows the German Air Force rehearsing the method of attack, which it has used both in Norway and Holland. But if ever they try this sort of thing in Britain, they'll get a pretty hot reception.

It is to fight this danger that Mr. Eden has appealed. Within a few hours of his broadcast police stations all over the country are besieged. In the first twenty four hours over a quarter of a million men have signed on for the duration of the war.

Various suggestions have been made as to the best way to recognise Parachute troops in disguise. Why not call Heil Hitler as they near the ground... and if they automatically raise the right arm... pop 'em off.