DE VALERA TESTS DEFENCE MINES

At Dunlough Mr. De Valera and ministers watch the finishing touches to a mine, one of the many to be laid in Irish harbours. The mines are part of a big defence plan which will give a good account of itself - if and when. Having seen a mine completed for laying Mr. De Valera is anxious to see how it works, so he presses a lever - and that's how. A very noisy greeting for any unwelcome visitor.
