

40/640

CARGO SHIP GETS TWO NAZI PLANES.

The Cargo vessel HIGHLANDER is unshipping the wreckage of one of her two Nazi victims, brought down in a running fight lasting 30 minutes.

As Nazi No. 1 came in to deliver an attack, seaman Anderson opened fire and scored a direct hit. Losing height rapidly the Dornier's Port wing struck a lifeboat and, with part of the fuselage, crashed across the bow of the Highlander. Twenty minutes later Nazi No. 2 arrived to renew the attack. This time the ship's Steward handled the Lewis Gun, and, getting in a deadly hail of bullets, the plane plunged into the sea in flames. So while the boys are congratulating each other, we'll applaud the grand work of the Steward, and seaman George Anderson.