PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Meanwhile, across the Atlantic, part of America's expanding home defences is on parade when President Roosevelt tours one of the United States Army's largest aerodromes. A line up at Langley Field, of the latest type of pursuit planes makes an imposing picture.

President Roosevelt has reason to feel proud of his pilots and planes. As the clouds of war spread wide, America writes across her skyline in unmistakable language, her attitude to the "force of arms which threatens all men everywhere".
