OLD IRON FROM GERMANY

When Germany first started the scuttling habit at Scapa Flow at the end of the last war, she little realized that her "under sea" craft would be useful to us at the present time. The barnacle-encrusted hulk of the "Derflinger" now raised from its 21 year old grave, is on its way to our factories for conversion into many useful weapons.

Germany boasts that she has a self-sufficiency of practically everything. Vast stores of raw materials and food are supposed to be laid by. If that's the case, then the cargoes destined for Nazi Germany which our Contraband Control are arresting, will be little loss to her. Furthermore, she should be well able to feed those countries she has plundered.

The more Germany talks, the more she exposes her thinly veiled attempts to commandeer any food which might be sent to the peoples she has brought to starvation.

But the British Contraband Control is not to be fooled - they know Hitler places Guns before Butter - or even Bread.
