PRIME MINISTER VISITS DEFENCES.

An unofficial reception committee of local inhabitants greets Britain's strong man when he visits our defences, and he makes another friend, before he joins Naval and Military High Command Chiefs in an inspection of Southern and Eastern Defence. Zones.

Typifying Britain's iron determination to destroy the blight of Nazidom, Mr. Churchill is fully satisfied with the instruments of extermination. From a vantage point, the Prime Minister takes a keen interest in New Military Preparations. Truly, his unflinching and inspiring energy makes him John Bull No. 1.
