GIFTS FROM U.S.A

To the busy docks and wharves in Britain come hundreds of tons of clothing, medical supplies and comforts, from the States. The goods are presents of the Allied Relief Fund of America. Thousands of articles of clothing and materials, surgical instruments and many other necessities, arrive at the warehouses, later to be transported to Dudley House, London, busy depot and distributing centre for these invaluable gifts. British Air Raid Victims, the men of the three services, European refugees and, in fact, all in need, will benefit by the generosity of our friends across the Atlantic.

Chairman of the Dudley House Committee, and daughter of the late Whitelaw Reid, former American Ambassador to England, is Lady Ward, who voices the gratitude of us all.
