POLISH BRIGADE IN THE EAST.

Units of our Polish Allies now stationed in Palestine are feeding on the fat grapes of the Land. These men are now stationed with our forces in the Western Desert, and when the Quartermaster dishes out the Wine issue, they think he's the man who put the 'Pol' into Palestine. But when it comes to the sterner business of daily routine they are, (in the words of Maurice Chevalier) "Excellents Soldats de premiere classe".

Still equipped with the motor cycles they used in their fight against the Jerries in Poland, they're in fine fettle for any charge of the high brigade.
