

5-208700
40/82

INFERNO OF CORK

A spectacular fire sweeps a huge Maryland plant in Baltimore, when hundreds of tons of cork go up in flames.

Despite the combined efforts of 24 companies of smoke-eaters, the blaze raged out of control and came dangerously close to igniting nearby oil tanks.

Most fires usually end in a profitable fire sale.

But what can you get out of a lot of singed and sodden corks??

.....