CARGO BOAT LAUNCHED

Uncle Sam's vast ship building programme is going full speed ahead and one of the latest of the cargo carriers to be launched is the American Leader. It costs two million dollars and it's the first of five on the stocks. So now she's already for a broadside launching. Very rare for a vessel of this size, gangway - there she goes. Not a tidal wave but the wash of another 12,000 tonner, most modern of motor ships and a most valuable addition to America's mercantile marine.
