WHEELBARROW V.C.

Wheelbarrow V.C. is not, perhaps a very dignified way of referring to second Lieutenant Annand, but he saved the life of his wounded batman (seen here) by wheeling him out of danger when under fire in France. Today he receives a further honour at the hands of the Mayor of South Shields, the Freedom of his home town. Having been granted freedom on the one hand, he straightway (the next day to be exact) enters a state of bondage. But when one sees the reason one can understand. Good health and happiness to Mr. & Mrs. Annand.
