ACTION.... NY AMERICAN AMBULANCE UNITS.

That was a pukka explosion, and serves as a good introduction to a demonstration of efficiency by British girls who are "manning" American Ambulance Units in England. They have orders to proceed to the scene of the explosion, and they're on their way.

Casualties are quickly dealt with by these girls, and before you can say what you think of Hitler, they are carefully tucked away for transit to hospital.

Its not all work of course. For instance, there's tea... followed by a chat about latest fashions for civilians. And when it comes to physical fitness, well, someone invented this little gadget, and there doesn't appear to be much wrong with that.
