WALKING RACE IN REGENTS PARK

When the bright sparks of London's Regents Park step out, its an occasion. Today the Highgate Harriers are teamed against the Metropolitan Police in a three mile step out around the inner circle of the park. The idea is to keep your knees going faster than the other feller, but not fast enough for a running commentary. A gruelling pace cuts the field down to three and soon there's only one in it. Frank Bignall of Paddington is the winner.
