AIR CREWS IN TRAINING.

The flow of candidates for Air Crew duties (with the R.A.F.) continues, and these pictures will give a slight idea of a cadet's early days at an initial training wing. Aircraft recognition, and all the other new lines of thought, grip the imagination of the pupils, from the word 'go'.

Quickness of the eye deceases the Nazi. Here's how the cadets acquire that admirable quality.

The R.A.F. want even more men for air crew duties , so boys, (as Mr. Morrison said in 1940) "Go To It".
