

5-002800

RUMANIAN EARTHQUAKE.

Scenes of devastation are all too familiar to us nowadays, but the destruction which Rumania's youthful King Michael is inspecting, was caused by the worst earthquake in the Country's history. Five thousand square miles of the Balkan Kingdom were laid waste by the catastrophe.

Bucharest, shaken to its foundations by a series of earth tremors had to fight countless fires which added to the horror. The collapse of a big apartment building alone buried three hundred persons, who were trapped in the debris. A disaster as devastating as War.