

NURSES ON PARADE.

Two thousand volunteer nurses of the South African Red Cross attend a big demonstration at the Johannesburg City Hall. Following the inspection by Secretary for Public Health, Sir Edward Thornton, South African Ministers witness a display by the Nurses of first aid drill.

The Red Cross and, in fact all nursing services, earn our unstinted praise for the noble and heroic work they are doing. No better work can women do, than in the honoured ranks of the "Women in White".
