LORD HALIFAX LEAVES FOR U.S.A.

Among those who see Lord Halifax off to U.S.A. is the Prime Minister. A drifter takes the party to the ship which is to carry His Majesty's Ambassador to the United States. In asking Lord Halifax to go to Washington, Mr. Churchill emphasizes the importance of Anglo-American co-operation - and he knows that Lord Halifax is the best man for the job. With our new Ambassador go the good wishes of the entire nation.
