

ROYAL TOUR OF BOMBED AREAS.

The King and Queen accompanied by Mr. Herbert Morrison inspects air raid damage in Manchester, during their visit to cities which have borne the brunt of enemy attack. A friendly chat here and there and words of encouragement to everyone, is the keynote of this visit of Their Majesties to the stout hearted people of Lancashire.

The Royal Exchange is but one of the well-known buildings to suffer.

Later, at Stoke on Trent, the King and Queen visit a large pottery works - a happy occasion for the work people who give Their Majesties a real Stoke welcome.
