ADDIS ABABA IS IN OUR HANDS.

May 5th 1936, and the Italians enter Addis Ababa -(the big shot looks as if he wants to speak to teacher). After having conquered Abyssinian warriors, mostly armed with rusty swords and flint-lock rifles, they try and look impressive with a run-round the block on their gun carriages.

Five years ago Ethiopians were down and almost out. Five years ago the Italians started training for the day when they would have to run for their blinging lives.

Where once Abyssinian patriots were rounded up by the Fascists, Mussolini's "Hoefers" are now kicked out of Addis Ababa by the British once and for all. Five years ago, Haile Selassie's men were made to lay down their arms. Today they are a warrior force again, with their one-time victors smashed, and tottering on the brink of collapse.

Mussol doesn't live here any more.
