MR. CHURCHILL IN LANCASHIRE.

Seated on the hood of a touring car, the Prime Minister goes on a tonic tour of the bombed areas of Birkenhead, Liverpool and Manchester. Mr. Churchill not only receives a tonic from the courageous Lancastrians (as he said in his broadcast) but he himself acts like a tonic to the stout-hearted people in the front line. There's a dramatic moment when our fighting Skipper signs the Mayoral Visitors' Book - on a kitchen table salvaged from the debris of a bombed house.

It was in these surroundings that the Prime Minister found inspiration for his broadcast. Remember his words? "I feel encompassed by an exaltation of spirit in the people which seems to lift mankind and its problems above the level of material facts - into that joyous security we think belongs to a better world than this."
