

2-187100
PATHE GAZETTE: 41/4D. (DUBLIN REEL)

NEW YORK CIRCUS

It's circus time in New York City and some of the finest acrobats in the world are doing their stuff. Thrills in plenty as performers of international fame risk life and limb to provide a little relaxation for the tired businessman. Trust the crowd to answer the trunk call. The elephants are as light on their feet as a feather on a piece of cotton wool, well nearly. A thrill a second on the bars high above the arena. They are big timers under the big top. In a spectacular finish the ribbons sort themselves out into a banner with the Stars and Stripes of the United States.