

NAVY REPELS ATTACK ON CONVOY.

Mediterranean Convoy. A phrase which sounds like the title of a forthcoming feature film but which, in real life, is the grim drama of duty in the face of a score of perils.

Enemy aircraft sighted. Up goes the signal to the masthead of H.M.S. RENOWN and every gun goes into action, splitting the heavens with a splintering crash of shrapnel and a stream of pom-pom shells, as the sea boils under the rain of bombs.

They've got one! Watch it go into the sea on the left of the screen.

The fighting ARK ROYAL is in the ~~back~~^{thick} of it -

What greater tribute can we pay to our men than: "The Convoy got through"