KING CAROL ARRIVES IN BERMUDA

Rumania's former Ruler King Carol comes ashore at Bermuda after a dramatic escape from his own country and state. A few minutes later Madam Lupescu comes down the ladder. She waves to some of her shipmates aboard the American liner that brought her to safety. King Carol smiles for the cameramen, but not with Madam. After the picture, a pow-wow with the press. Madam Lupescu in turn permits some photographs on the balcony of her hotel. It's all part of the moving picture of their own eventful life.
