RODEO IN LOS ANGELES

The travelling rodeo comes to town, the round-up of 1941, the Cowboys' Gykhana. In an arena knocked up in a couple of shakes the show begins. Yippee! ride 'em cowboy. Wide-eyed Los Angeles orphans are among the big crowd of rodeo fans and are they getting their money's worth. Turned loose with only a rope and a rag the riders do their matador act. These steers don't care a toss.
