

WITH OUR TROOPS IN SYRIA.

These first pictures to arrive from the Syrian field of operations, show the advance of our troops towards Beirut. As our forces penetrate further into French Mandated territory, telegraph offices are put out of action. This allied thrust into Syria follows the Coastal Road from Palestine, through the country which grows those strange fruit known as oranges. Opposing the Imperial and Allied forces are Lebanese troops and Vichy French, many of whom give themselves up to join the Free French under General Catroux.

And as the old ~~lady~~ lady said "bless my soul, here are more of these Kangeroosters".
