JAVA STANDS PREPARED.

Dutch Marines come ashore at a Javanese Sea Port to take over vulnerable points on the mainland, as Tokio talks sweetly about the Dutch East Indies forming part of Greater East Asia. Japan's assurances of non-aggressive intentions put the Dutch Colonial Government on their guard, When anyone with a leaning towards Nazi methods becomes all treacle and honey, its time to see how you stand with your Army, Navy and Air Force. Java, with a population of nearly 40 millions has much to protect and a lot to lose - but she doesn't intend to lose - it's an old Dutch custom to want to retain what belongs to her.

Maybe the crude oil works have something to do with it, perhaps the Rising Sun needs lubricating.
