

A "PRESENT" FROM THE NAZIS.

.....

We are now in possession of one of Willy Messerschmitt's latest models. This is the M.E. 109F Germany's very newest fighter plane. The Nazi pilot, a certain Captain Pingel (a Prussian Officer who wears corsets and claims to have destroyed twenty-two British aircraft) thought he could outwit the R.A.F. Buzzards, but ended up in a forced landing near St. Margaret's Bay. As a result of his swollen-headedness all the closely guarded secrets of the new plane are disclosed to our research experts. Sighappy Herman will be cross.
