WATERSKIING

They're tuning up for the National Championships at Michigan so upski the water. The team of wing-footed daredevils take the course, and here they come like flashes of lightning in a hurry. Down, but not out. Feet up and only an expert knows how. Even the best of friends must part, but not all like this. Look out there. Got a stone in his shoe, well water anyway. If you know of a faster sport to go in for, go right in.
