

41/68

H.M.S. NELSON VISITS SOUTH AFRICA,

A real heavyweight calls at a South African Seaport.

Nearly 34,000 tons of the stuff that goes to make the British Navy the most powerful sea-fighting force in the world. H.M.S. NELSON is a welcome sight (in ~~close-up~~) to the South Africans, for they know that she, and her many sister ships, are keeping open the life-lines to the Mother Country.

The necessities of life cross and re-cross the oceans; the enemy fails to strike mortal blows at the well-being of the people of the British Commonwealth of Nations; the convoys continue to arrive, for they sail under the protection of the Royal Navy.