

KING GEORGE OF GREECE ARRIVES IN BRITAIN.

The King and Queen extend a royal welcome to the King of Greece who arrives in England from South Africa. King George of the Hellenes and his Ministers are here to establish direct contact with the British Government. The Prime Minister is also there to greet His Majesty. The informal reception on the platform ends with a brief inspection of the Grenadier Guards, who form a guard of honour to the fighting King of Greece.