

00000000

4/81

HIS MAJESTY'S U. BOAT 570

Squadron Leader Thompson, Skipper of the Hudson bomber which forced the U.570 to surrender at sea. Slowly over the flat and shining waters of a British Port comes the German Submarine under her own power, with a prize crew aboard and flying the White Ensign. On the conning tower the imprint of an upside down horseshoe and the bullet holes made by the Hudson's gunner. Coastal Command's gift to the Royal Navy is under the command now of Lieutenant George Colvin, who brings the U.Boat in at the conclusion of one of the most dramatic war stories ever recorded.