

DESTROYERS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

Mussolini calls these blue waters his sea. Well, well!
Just at the moment one of our crack destroyer flotillas is using it for a gymnasium. These pictures taken from the decks of the Flotilla Leader, show various manoeuvres being carried out in the Mediterranean. This one is known as the "Gridiren", a particularly graceful manoeuvre with which to carve a pattern on Mussol's doorstep. Now they pretend there are some wop submarines about.

Drop another, they didn't hear the last one.

Yoo-hee Mussey come on in, the water's fine.

O.K. boys, pack it up, the Italian Navy's feeling billicious.
