

PATHE GAZETTE: 41/88. (DUBLIN)

COTTON PICKING RACE

At Blythville, Arkansas the Cotton Picking Championship attract some of the slickest fingers in all Dixie and does the fleece fly. The pick of the pickers pick for an hour and the picker picking the best pick is picked for the prize. Here's a great chance for a picker's piking to have a ride. This man is really a Mississippi fisherman but he can pick cotton even quicker than he can net fish and that's saying a lot. The pace today is almost hot enough to set the cotton alight. The fisherman wins with a picking of 130 pounds, the prize is a thousand one dollar bills. Some picking ...