PIG DERBY

What won't those girls of California think of next.

A pig in a poke is all very well, to poke in a pig is another thing altogether. For the sake of getting their pictures taken ten chorus girls from San Francisco run a Pig Derby and when I say run, I mean run.

Getting a pig over a style is hard enough but try pushing one through a fence and see how you get on. Now comes the water hazard, pity the poor pig, they don't know any better. Well, this is the last ditch and it looks like the winning girl enjoys it more than her partner.
