

PEACE OR WAR IN THE PACIFIC.

Peace in the Pacific hangs on a slender thread. Tokyo's special "last chance" envoy arrives in Washington to talk appeasement with President Roosevelt. M. Kurusu who signed the Axis pact in Berlin - a year ago - knows Japan's commitments to Hitler inside out. Ambassador Homura greets Kurusu and then off to the White House for immediate discussions. Some reports say "The situation is at boiling point", others that the talks will continue. Tokyo will no doubt say "Japan is still at the crossroads - Sure, but she shouldn't stand in the road @ she might get hurt.
