THREE MUSKETEERS

Meet the three musketeers at the St. Louis Zoo, Chimp, Champ and Chump. Champ's the one in the middle. He's 50% Dane, 50% Shepherds and 100% bewildered. But for old time's sake he'll stand for all their monkey tricks. Mind you, Champ likes a bit of rough house and he'll join in with a playful bite and throw, after all what's a dog got a mouth for. Now comes the end of the tail, or nearly. These monks are nothing but a couple of hangers-on. Well they asked for it and here it is, he's getting it well in the neck. A weapon, eh? So they can't take it, well of all the hairy little horrors, just a stick up, that's all it is, sticky.
