

PATHE GAZETTE: 42/20. (DUBLIN)

CARLISLE HORSE SHOW

Aristocrats of the horse world arrive at the famous Carlisle show and here, you punters, is another way to back a horse, maybe the best way. In their pens are some of the finest animals in the North Country. It's a show that's famed for the variety and quality of its type. Every nag comes clean and goes that way too. So into the judging ring comes the blue-blooded thoroughbreds and before as critical an audience as you would find anywhere. It would take a very fast horse to get away with anything in front of these judges. A first prize winner gets his award, and he's a beauty.