CROSS COUNTRY RACE.

It's the start of a cross country race between athletic associations and services at West Breewich, probably the biggest feature of the year and the runners have their own ideas for tackling obstacles. The fixture secretary surveys the last field. Friendly enough rivals but they all take a-fence, some over and some under. The course is over six miles of the rough and the field begins to thin out. Fleet footed club stars are well up amongst the runners at the finish, though stamina is of more account than speed. Here comes the winner, Private Draper whose time is 47 minutes, 8 seconds.
