BOXING.

Fighting men go fighting. The R.A.F. boxing team from Rhodesia meet the Union Defence team at Robert's Heights and the blows fall thick and fast. The Springboks are represented by National Cruiserweight Champion, Aircraftman Willy Smith who is matched against Leading Aircraftman Adamson. Adamson puts up a game resistance but he's outpunched by the South African who wins on points. Star fight of the evening is between Cadet Laurie Stevens and Sergeant Letty. They meet in the Welterweight class. Stevens opens with his usual two fisted body attack. It's obvious that Stevens hasn't lost any of the skill and speed that seemed him to the top of the boxing ladder. He keeps up a relentless battery of blows and drops the R.A.F. man in the second round. Letty beats the count but there's no stopping the furious Stevens blitzkrieg. Laurie believes in offensive tactics in a big way. Stevens ends the contest with a perfect left hook to the solar-plexus, Letty goes down this time for the count. It was a grand evening's fighting which all the boys enjoyed.
