

SOLENN PLEDGE REDEEMED IN ADDIS ABABA.

In the Council Chamber of the Royal Palace in Addis Ababa, an agreement between Great Britain and Ethiopia is ratified.
The first example of the redemption of a solemn pledge of liberation.
The Emperor Haile Selassie and Major General Sir Philip Mitchell append their signatures to the historic document which also marks the first anniversary of the Emperor's return to his Capital, and recognises the independence of Abyssinia. Britain is collaborating closely with Ethiopians as they set about the reconstruction of their country.

Now, liberated from Fascist aggression, Ethiopia regains its rightful place in the sun.

