

5-11-1980

RAGGING FOR FUNDS.

University students set Capetown collection boxes working overtime in a mammoth appeal for the Red Cross. South African levelies are also enlisted for the purpose of getting money out of old gentlemen with young ideas. Through the crowded streets goes the procession and the rush on the pocket for a good cause has begun. The Cape is famed for its beauties, and these decorated floats hold some of the loveliest.

The Proceedings end with the traditional flour battle.

This year it's artificial flour but its making good dough just the same.