

42/52

FREDDIE MILLS KNOCKS OUT LEN HARVEY.

The sensational Harvey-Mills fight packs Tottenham Football ground for the world's, Empire and British light heavyweight championships.

Pilot Officer Len Harvey the holder, is scheduled to defend his titles in a 15 round contest with the twenty two year old Bournemouth

Challenger, Sergeant Freddie Mills also of the R.A.F. With the introductions over, more than 30,000 spectators settle down in anticipation of a strongly fought slogging match. In the first round Harvey mixes punches, but most of the exchanges are at close quarters. One or two blows begin to creep round the back of Harvey's neck, but in the main, round one is just a lot of "in" fighting with both men adding up points.

Harvey is thirteen years older than young Mills and it's just possible that these years are beginning to tell. Harvey entered the ring with the proud record of never having been knocked out in a fight.

And that's the end of round one. In a few seconds now, Harvey will come out of his corner for the "Mills-Bomb" finish. And here we go. Mills comes in like a bull at a Championship. Before Harvey can get set, Mills sends in a left hook to the chin and drops Harvey for a count of nine. For the next few seconds. Harvey's who's defence was probably the finest in the world is nothing more than a punchbag for Mills.

P.T.O.

12/24

Mills has him on the ropes and is sending in a fusillade of lefts and rights to the fading champion. One more shattering cunch and away goes Harvey through the ropes and heading out of the ring.

After four minutes of fighting time, Mills gave the pay-off punch that won him three titles, and no "Jankers" for hitting a superior officer.

Challenger, Sergeant Freddie Mills also of the R.A.F. With the introductions over, more than 30,000 spectators settle down for anticipation of a strongly fought boxing match. In the first round Harvey mixes punches, but most of the exchanges are at close quarters. One or two blows begin to creep round the back of Harvey's neck, but in the main, round one is just a lot of "in" fighting with both men adding up points.

Harvey is thirteen years older than young Mills and it's just possible that those years are beginning to tell. Harvey entered the ring with the proud record of never having been knocked out in a fight.

And that's the end of round one. In a few seconds now, Harvey will come out of his corner for the "Mills-Bomb" finish. And here we go. Mills comes in like a bull at a Championship. Before Harvey can get set,

Mills sends in a left hook to the chin and drops Harvey for a count of nine. After the next few seconds, Harvey's who's defence was probably the finest in the world is nothing more than a punchbag for Mills.