

42/57

THE KING WITH THE HOME GUARD.

The King who recently became Colonel-in-Chief of the Home Guard, pays a visit to units training and exercising in the South Eastern Command. One of the many Home Guardsmen with whom the King Talks is Lance-Corporal Robey, son of the Comedian. When asked if he were following in his fathers footsteps he replied that he is on the Staff of the Director of Public Prosecutions.

The King is shown a new sub-machineGun, the Sten (an automatic weapon now being issued to the Home Guard. Before leaving, the King made a point of saying how much he had been impressed by all he had seen.