CALLING ALL STARS

Stars of the screen are called in to twinkle for charity at a great Washington round up. At this mass get together plans are made for the picture celebrities to go places and collect and if you want an autograph it's all yours for the paying. Secretary Morgenthau welcomes the visitors. When Hollywood comes to Washington it is indeed a moving picture and what better missionaries of charity than the stars of the silver screen. If you want to see them in person the accent's on the 'pers' (purse). Greer Garson, otherwise Mrs. Miniver, goes to work. Smallest contributions are thankfully received. If you want a written acknowledgement well the signature may be worth a lot. You can sell it and hand over the proceeds. Hedy Lamarr takes a hand, her fountain pen is kept very busy. Charm for charity is a good choice and it's in a good cause.
